PRCC Guidance on the importance of pursuing excellence in making application to the three services to become a Chaplain.

1. Why Pursue Excellence?

Finally, brothers, whatever is true, whatever is honorable, whatever is just, whatever is pure, whatever is lovely, whatever is commendable, if there is any excellence, if there is anything worthy of praise, think about these things. Philippians 4:8

Show yourself in all respects to be a model of good works, and in your teaching show integrity, dignity... Titus 2:7

It was said of Daniel in chapters 5 and 6, that he had an excellent spirit. What does this tell us about Daniel? The spirit of excellence in Daniel's life was never about how great or gifted he was, it was about God getting all the glory. The same should be said about all of us, and certainly as you make application to become a military Chaplain.

Even in the Chaplain application process you must remember Godly excellence because you are reflection of your Savior Jesus Christ, and this should be seen by those who are tasked to select the next class of Chaplains. You want to give your best to God and always consider how to improve on it. Remember you are a steward of the gifts he has given you, which in fact equip you to become an outstanding Chaplain, but always to the glory of God.

Consider what you're going into, even as a noncombatant. As a Chaplain the military will see you as an integral part of what is called "A Profession of Arms".

In the Navy Creed recited by all personnel are the words "*...to defend freedom and democracy around the world. I proudly serve my country's Navy combat team with Honor, Courage and Commitment. I am committed to excellence..."

In Bootcamp all Soldiers learn the Army Creed which contains the words "...I am an expert, and I am a professional..."

All Marines know from day one their motto Semper Fidelis – "Always Faithful."

And all Airmen recite as part of their creed "... I am faithful to a Proud Heritage, A Tradition of Honor, And a Legacy of Valor..."

In an official Army White Paper dated 2 Dec 2010 this question was asked in Section 1 followed by this answer, "What does it mean to be a Profession? Professions produce uniquely expert work, not routine or repetitive work. Medicine, theology, law, and the military are 'social trustees' and forms of professions. Effectiveness, rather than pure efficiency, is the key to the work of professionals—the ill want a cure, the sinner wants absolution, the accused want exoneration, and the defenseless seek security. Professionals require years of study and practice before they are capable of expert work."

Here is the bottom line: all the services of the United States military seek to be highly professional organizations and are seeking to find the best of all professionals. Of course, we wouldn't win this debate in the public square, but we believe, as George Washington did, that the Chaplain is the most important professional in the military. You are the one that will bring the hope of the Gospel of Jesus Christ to all Airmen, Sailors, Soldiers, Marines, Coast Guardsman and Guardians in times of war and peace. If you become an Army Chaplain you will be tasked with what the Chaplain Corps call the "three non-negotiables" ... nurture the living, care for the wounded, and honor the fallen. Both the Navy and Air Force Chaplain Corps expect the same.

This will be your professional role if you're selected to one of the services as a Chaplain! Excellence is required to carry out this most challenging ministry and excellence brings the most glory to God!

2. Practical Steps in Pursuing Excellence in the Application Process.

a. Communicate well with every stake holder, the PRCC Endorser and his staff, your Presbytery, your recruiter, your references, and everyone in the military who is part of the application process.

b. Make sure all application documents, both military and PRCC are typed or at least printed with excellence, proofread more than once, every block filled out, answers are well thought out and the documents are returned to the proper party in an expeditious manner.

c. When a personal photo is required, find a suitable background, dress professionally and feel free to smile. We recommend you consider a shorter military style haircut and be clean shaven, but this is not required in the application process.

d. For any sample sermon required, dress professionally and use a suitable location, behind a pulpit in a church is preferred. Since you will not have much time to preach make sure you get to your main point quickly and, as Paul admonishes us, "preach the word" and consider how this sermon might be preached to a congregation of military members. Don't be tied to your notes and seek to make good eye contact with the camera.

e. If you begin the application process and must delay for a period and then restart, make sure all military and PRCC documents are fully updated, including contact information, Presbytery status, current work/ministry situation, up-to-date family information.

f. Become aware of the fitness requirements of the military branch you are pursuing and engage in a physical exercise regimen that will be necessary for you to serve. Pursue excellence!

g. Be prepared to clearly explain why you feel called to pursue the Chaplaincy. Remember this isn't a job. This is a sacrificial calling in service to Jesus Christ and your country. Count the cost and move forward as God leads.

h. You are encouraged as you begin this application process to use restraint in all your social media to conform with what will be required/restricted if you are Commissioned into the military as a Chaplain. Posts related to family, friends and your Christian faith are certainly permissible.

I. If you have questions about anything in this document, or the application process in general, please contact someone on the PRCC staff for assistance. We are very eager to help you!
