

Conference was a golazo

Hispanic Ministries Conference Participants

Soccer is a low scoring game. When someone scores (goal), the faithful fans and announcers scream and yell with great excitement. A particularly beautiful or difficult goal is called a golazo.

My leadership team and I led our first Hispanic ministries conference at Christos Community Church, one of our Hispanic church plants in Norcross, GA, on April 30 – We were delighted to have twenty eight people representing Hispanic churches from nine States at the conference.

thirteen of them traveled the thirteen hours it takes to go from Houston, TX to Norcross, GA on his motorcycle!

On the last day of the conference, one of the participants said, “Hernando, esta conferencia fue un golazo!” (Hernando, the conference was a golazo) others wrote in their evaluations “the best thing about the conference was meeting others in the PCA who are ministering to Hispanics, connecting and learning from them and beginning friendships” and “the best thing about the conference was hearing the vision and current state of Hispanic ministry in the PCA”. We are thrilled to see the excitement and willingness to work together for the advancement of the gospel among Hispanics in the USA.

Our second Hispanic ministries conference is scheduled for September 17-18 at Crosspoint Encuentro, a one of our Hispanic PCA churches. We long to score another golazo!
